

Agricultural Trade Policy in Colombia

VIRTUAL STUDENT FEDERAL SERVICE

Project Title	Agricultural Trade Policy in Colombia
Project Summary	Market and trade policy research in Colombia on agricultural trade issues.
Country	Colombia

Project Description

Even though the United States and Colombia have a free trade agreement, U.S. agriculture still faces various market access issues in Colombia. In consultation with the Agricultural Office in Bogota, the intern will conduct research on a number of these trade policy topics. The Agricultural Office will facilitate contacts for the intern's research.

The experience gained in this project will enhance the intern's ability to further their career in the international trade field.

Required Skills or Interests

Skill(s)
Data analysis
Economic analysis
Marketing
Political Analysis
Research

Additional Information

None

Language Requirements

None